

7.2.1. - Described at least two institutional best practices - 2022-23

- 1) Title - Know your biodiversity
- 2) Objective of the practice - increase awareness and understanding of local biodiversity among students and the community.
- 3) Context - The institution is conscious about the value and worth border national conservation.

Department of Zoology and botany organize this activity carry on knowledge of biodiversity. workshop and seminars, expert-ed sessions on biodiversity. Identification, conservation and ecological significance were conducted this department this sessions focused on local species of plants, birds, insects and animal.

II - Title - Training for self help group -

Objective of the practice - increase self confidence and information about the market. Self help groups play a tremendance role in empowering women.

III - Context - The Department of Economics providing an excellent platform to improve the self confidence and help women overcome challenges, gain access to resources and improve their economic status. Our faculty provide market oriented commodities and facilities.

Sugaran Self Help Group

7.3.1 Our collage seems to be a boon for the students in Kagal, Bhudargad and Radhanagari region and is running traditional as well as professional courses. Various activities have been implemented by our college as part of social responsibility such activities are conducted at the level of student, family and society. This activities include student fee concession to poor and needy students, the financial aids various people of the society. Zimkhana and sports ground facility to sportsman.

Group Based Learning - ( Department of Education )

Sports Department

Book Exhibition for Students -

